RORY JAKEMAN

FREELANCE SHOW CALLER (2019 - PRESENT)

I am a UK-based Show Caller with over fifteen years of experience in live performance and global events. I began my career in London's West End theatres, where I spent ten years working on productions before transitioning into the events industry in 2019. Since then, I have show called a wide range of large-scale productions, including Opening Ceremonies, music festivals, sporting events, product launches, corporate events, and awards ceremonies. My work has taken me across the globe, with projects in North and South America, the Middle East, Asia, Europe, and Africa. Alongside my work as a Show Caller, I have an extensive portfolio of credits as a Stage Manager. Outside of events, I serve in the British Army Reserve and also work as a voice-over artist.
